DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-15 are pending in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- a. The following terms lack antecedent basis:

- i. "the web content" of claim 1 lines 9 and 10;
- ii. "the web content" of claims 2 and 4 lines 3 and 1 respectively;
- iii. "the web content" of claim 13 line 2;
- iv. "external web content" of claim 14 line 8;
- v. "the web content" of claim 14 lines 12 and 13;
- vi. "external web content" of claim 15 line 4;
- vii. "the web content" of claim 15 lines 9 and 10;

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2126

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1,3-9,12,14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Pat. No. 6,564,257 B1 to Emens et al. in view of U.S. Pat. No. 6,623,527 B1 to Hazmy.

6. As to claim 1, Emens computer implemented method for operating a web imaging system for use with a browser on an imaging client, comprising: translating the request to an imaging client specific command (Session Manager 108 Col. 2 Ln. 65 – 67, Col. 3 Ln. 1 – 3); creating an opaque reference that is mapped to the imaging client specific command (Marker 112 Col. 3 Ln. 16 – 27, figure 2A/B Col. 4 Ln. 3 – 25); and providing this opaque reference to the web content, without supplying a reference to the resource or the imaging client specific command to the web content (Col. 3 Ln. 24 – 30, Steps 210/212 Col. 4 Ln. 14 – 16).

7. Emens is silent with reference to loading external web content into a browser on a client side and receiving at the browser a request from the external web content for a reference to a resource.

8. Hamzy teaches loading external web content into a browser on a client side (Step 207 Col. 6 Ln. 1 – 6) and receiving at the browser a request from the external web content for a reference to a resource (“...selecting the print button...” Col. 6 Ln. 6 – 18).

Art Unit: 2126

9. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teachings of Hamzy and Emens because the teaching of Hamzy would improve the system of Emens by provides means displaying and selecting printer button such that print request could be sent to a printer server (Hamzy Col. 2 Ln. 48 – 52).

10. As to claim 3, Hamzy teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the resource is associated with the personal imaging repository of a user that is external to a source of the external web content (Col. 5 Ln. 49 – 67).

11. As to claim 4, Hazmy teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein a reference from the web content will be accepted if the reference or the web content meets a criteria (Col. 5 Ln. 49 – 67).

12. As claim 5, Hazmy teaches the method as defined in claim 4, wherein the criteria is that the reference is from the same source as the external web content (Col. 5 Ln. 49 – 67).

13. As to claim 6, Hazmy teaches the method as defined in claim 4, wherein the criteria are that the external web content includes predetermined credentials (Col. 5 Ln. 40 – 48).

Art Unit: 2126

14. As to claim 7, Emens teaches the method as defined in claim 1, further comprising the steps of calling an imaging extension API that interacts with personal imaging repository resources that are external to source of the external web content; and wherein the mapping step comprises mapping to a resource from the user's personal imaging repository (Mapper 120 Col. 3 Ln. 51 – 60).

15. As to claim 8, Emens teaches the method as defined in claim 7, wherein the API creates a session with a session id that is used to facilitate obtaining the opaque reference (Col. 2 Ln. 65 – 67, Col. 3 Ln. 1 – 3).

16. As to claim 9, Emens teaches the method as defined in claim 8, wherein the opaque reference is mapped in the mapping step to a reference for a personal imaging repository resource, but this mapping is deleted when the session ends (Col. 3 Ln. 36 – 50).

17. As to claim 12, Emens teaches the method as defined in claim 7, further comprising the step of receiving at the imaging extension a reference from the web content; accessing an imaging extension API to map the reference received from the web content to an opaque reference and creating a mapping relationship in the imaging extension between the received reference and the opaque reference; and adding the opaque reference to a graphic (Mapper 120 Col. 3 Ln. 51 – 60).

Art Unit: 2126

18. As to claims 14 and 15, see the rejection of claim 1 above.

19. Claims 2,10,11 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Pat. No. 6,564,257 B1 to Emens et al. in view of U.S. Pat. No. 6,623,527 B1 to Hamzy as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of U.S. Pat. No. 6,393,468 B1 to McGee.

20. As to claim 2, Emens teaches as modified by Hamzy teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein an imaging extension performs the receiving, translating and mapping steps (figure 1 Col. 4 – 67).

21. Emens and Hamzy are silent with reference to the imaging extension not accepting a reference from the external web content.

22. McGee teaches the imaging extension not accepting a reference from the web content (Col. 13 Ln. 7 – 28).

23. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teachings of McGee, Hamzy and Emens because the teaching of McGee would improve the system of Emens and Hamzy by providing means for controlling how a user could access resources in a session store (McGee Col. 13 Ln. 7 – 28).

Art Unit: 2126

24. As to claim 10, McGee teaches the method as defined in claim 8, wherein the imaging extension API calls at least one API for one of the personal imaging repository resources (Col. 13 Ln. 7 – 20).

25. As to claim 11, McGee teaches the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the opaque reference is originated by the imaging extension and is only recognized by the imaging extension (Col. 13 Ln. 7 – 20).

26. As to claim 13, McGee teaches the method as defined in claim 12, wherein the imaging extension API is only accessed if credentials of the external web content are accepted by the imaging extension (Col. 13 Ln. 7 – 20).

Conclusion

27. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
